Curbside program ready to go in BSL next week

Gulf Coast Recycling (GCR) will deliver household recycling containers to Bay St. Louis residents from March 25 through March 30.
An information packet containing a service calendar and instructions for using the container correctly will be delivered with each container.
The 14-gallon burgundy plastic containers are imprinted with the city's logo. There is a bungee cord attached to each container to extend the capacity of the container and to prevent wind-driven litter.
Residents are encouraged to set their containers out by 7:30 a.m. on the morning of their collection day on those weeks when their bin is full or nearly full.
Smaller households may only need to set their container out once or twice a month, when it is full.
The containers should be taken back indoors soon after they are emptied to avoid loss or damage. The receptacles have been purchased by the city for residents' use in the curbside recycling program and are city property.
Any resident household which does not receive a recycling container by dark on March 20 should call Gulf Coast Recycling, toll-free at 467-9268.

Waveland rejects resolution for Epilepsy Foundation funding

BY LIZ HAAS
Treva Smart of the Epilepsy Foundation requested the Waveland Board of Aldermen pass a resolution to enable the city to set aside funds for the organization in a Wednesday meeting.
"I ask you to adopt this resolution to go before the legislature to ask for a local and private bill so you can fund me if you so decide," she said. "Because if you decide later you want to fund me, you will not be able to do it without this."
"If I do not get adequate funding from the Coastal area, I will have to close my office here," she said.
Smart asked the board to adopt the resolution and later make a decision at budget time if they have any funding to allot for her program.
"We appreciate your coming here, but I'm afraid that we are not in a position to pass this resolution now," said Frilot.
The board approved the application for the 1993 Community Block Grant for urgent needs for small cities for the City of Waveland.
The grant is for the moving of gas lines on Highway 603.
"The district will charge at the most $4,000 if we get the grant and $2,000 if we do not get it," said Frilot.
In addition, the board approved a resolution to authorize the filing of the application. The board adopted a 90-day ordinance to put a moratorium on signs, billboards and other displays in Waveland.
"We ask for a 90-day ordinance so we have time to prepare for a comprehensive one," said Lucien Gex, board attorney.
The board approved to go into executive session to discuss legal matters affecting the city in which no action was taken, according to Frilot.
The board approved to hire attorney James Tucker for a fee

Police continue search for robber

BY LIZ HAAS
Bay St. Louis Police continue a search for the man who robbed Merchant's Bank of an undisclosed amount of money at 800 Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis Thursday at 9:15 a.m.
According to Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeil, "A suspect described as a possible white male, entered the bank in full camouflage wearing a ski mask on his head and brandishing a weapon."
"He told the teller to give him all the money, he put it in a bag and exited the bank dropping part of money near the door," he said.
Police responded to the bank alarm that went off at 9:15 a.m. and when a police unit arrived at the bank, the suspect was exiting the bank and heading for the woods behind it, reported McNeil.
He said, "He got into the woods in the area between Easterbrook and Highway 90 and Washington and Old Spanish Trail, with Bay Police in hot pursuit."
"At one time, an officer got within 20-25 feet of him," said McNeil.

Community group seeks assistance for youth center

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Monday evening about 15 people gathered at Mississippi Power Company to discuss the logistics of turning a dilapidated building into a center of activity and fun for the children of Hancock County.
The county is waiting for receipt of insurance prior to entering into a lease agreement with the Concerned Citizens Organization of Hancock County.
Concerned Citizens members Toni Smith, Melinda Singleton and Felecia Craft reported the concept of a community center originated during the St. Rose de Lima drug task force meetings, formed following the death of Bay Catholic teacher Cindy Lizana Acker last August.
The liability insurance for one year is about $1,500 and was the first item of discussion.
"Before we can get into the building, we must raise the money for the insurance," Craft stated.
The women said the goal for the center will be to incorporate educational programs, such as tutorial and computer programs, as well as dance and cultural classes.
Also planned is a latchkey or after hours care program for small children of working parents.
Those present that night signed up in specific areas of interest.
Bay St. Louis Police Department Chief Frank McNeil suggested the women contact the school districts to solicit support.
Someone suggested the various civic groups such as Elks, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts be contacted.
One audience member said he would provide the labor for installation of fencing along an area of yard which borders a ditch. Now the group must find the fencing.
Craft said they have received donations of some materials.

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

Superstition kills faith

"Father's in the other side of the house. Quick, tell me. Did you go to see the reader yet? But don't tell father that I spoke to you about it."

The superstitious busybody who was soliciting a visitor at the rectory to consult a reader, or psychic, was plainly fearful of being found out by me. Apparently, it was a combination of a confused conscience and fear of reprisal.

Psychic readings of various kinds have recently become both acceptable and popular to the extent where they are advertised nightly on the nationally televised program, "Psychic Friends Network."

Sporting a 900 number, which must make a nice piece of change for them at $3.99 a minute, the owners of the Psychic Friends Network legitimize their service through dupes like Dionne Warwyck who emcees and pushes the show with fervor.

"All you need is a telephone and an open mind," says the main psychic featured on the show. In the course of the presentation, she demonstrates a reading by talking to a live caller, mouthing generic predictions, as most psychics do.

Far be it from me to deny the existence and reality of psychic powers. In fact, I myself have encountered instances of mental telepathy among my students and acquaintances.

I have also witnessed readings of the energy fields of auras which were an exact fit and description of the persons analyzed. These were people unknown to the analyst.

Our problem as Christians does not rest with the existence of psychic powers and activity, but with the fuzzy area where people leave the merely psychic and get into the practices of superstition, fortune-telling and applying curses.

The Bible is quite explicit in its blanket condemnation of superstitious practices: "You have abandoned your people, the house of Jacob, because they are filled with fortune-tellers and soothsayers" (Is. 2: 6).

Moses passed God's command down to the Jews: "Should anyone turn to mediums and fortune-tellers and follow their vain ways, I will punish them with my rod and afflict them with my scourge" (Lv. 24: 10-16).

An actually blind demand for such things is not to be found among you anyone who is truly a Christian. You are not to be deceived by the promises of fortune-tellers and soothsayers.

fortune-teller, soothsayer, charmer, diviner, or caster of spells, nor one who consults ghosts and spirits or seeks oracles from the dead. Anyone who does such things is an abomination to the Lord" (Dt. 18: 10-12).

God spoke also through the mouth of Micah the prophet: "I will abolish the means of divination from your use, and there shall no longer be soothsayers among you" (Mi. 5: 11).

It is most distressing to see how many people choose to pursue superstitions instead of true religion, and even more troubling to witness the enthusiasm and energy they exert in flying after the vain, inane efforts of puny human beings.

The following statement is actually aimed at all the Christian churches: "You just wait. You'll never get anything out of the Catholic Church!" is the kind of garbage which spills from the mouths of many so-called Catholics.

There is but one reader, one healer in the universe. He is the Alpha, the Omega, the Beginning and the End of all.

during business hours (8 a.m.-4 p.m.).

GCR will mail a voucher to any resident who did not receive a container during the delivery process. The resident will then present the voucher to the Utilities Department at City Hall, and they will be given their recycling container.

Residents from each of the five collection areas attended GCR's neighborhood recycling education meetings during the week of March 8-13.

More than 100 volunteer block leaders were recruited and trained. They are now visiting each home in their assigned "block" to distribute a curbside recycling brochure to each household, explain how the curbside recycling program works, and encourage residents to participate.

LEADERS NEEDED

Block leaders are still needed to distribute brochures and encourage participation on some sections of the following streets: Boardman Avenue, Leonhard Avenue, Melody Lane, Thomas Avenue, Blake-more, Carroll Avenue and Beyer Drive;

Esplanade Avenue, Buick Drive, Pontiac Drive, Mercury Drive, Citizen Street, Old Spanish Trail, Sycamore Street;

Easterbrook, Spanish Acres Drive, Carlos Court, Barcelona Court, Bay Oaks Drive, Ballentine Street and Booker Street.

Volunteers are encouraged to call Paige Carter at Gulf Coast Recycling at 467-9268. Block leaders will be asked to spend a maximum of two hours delivering brochures to a 10-15 household area, and encouraging residents to participate in the city-wide recycling program.

Gulf Coast Recycling presented a recycling education program at each elementary and middle school in Bay St. Louis.

The students learned how to help their families participate in the curbside program and received "Bay St. Louis Recycles" coloring books and word games produced by GCR.

GCR's new curbside recycling truck visited each school to demonstrate how the program will work for the children, youth and their families.

furniture and monies, but still have a great deal to accomplish.

They are currently seeking funds through state and federal grant programs. Direction offered in this area would be greatly appreciated, Craft stated.

The group hopes funding will be secured to employ one full time director and one part time security person.

The women said they intend to have the building repaired, and ready for the children by the time summer vacation from school begins.

The Concerned Citizens Organization summarized, "Many of us have turned our backs on the true needs of our community in a false hope that the education system, police departments, local government and even prison will answer the immediate ills within our society.

"These systems have done their part, but the evidence is in and now we know it will take all of us, each of us, to make a difference.

"We wish to change negative directions in the lives of our children and provide them with the guidance and support they need.

"We wish to lessen the burden of those less fortunate while enhancing the lives of those who would benefit from the same.

"This community center will be repaired and furnished by the people of Hancock County who love all the children.

"We need help. We need the arms of the people to help with the labor, and the heart of the community to believe in a dream of a Hancock County where our children are cared for and provided the opportunity to be the best they can be."

Officers attempted to surround the area to contain the suspect and had additional help from the Hancock County Sheriff's Office, the Pass Christian Police Department and the Highway Patrol, reported McNeil.

"After a detailed and lengthy search, with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and a U.S. Customs helicopter, we were not able to locate the suspect," said McNeil.

He reported, "We have some indications that he got out of the perimeter prior to our blocking it off."

McNeil said Bay police officers recovered the suspect's jacket in the woods.

"We have indications that the subject may have been outside the bank prior to its opening," he said.

A description from bank employees said there was a white male about 6 feet tall, weighing approximately 180-185 pounds in his early 40s with a mustache and close-shaved beard seen outside the bank prior to its opening, reported McNeil.

"This person could be the same person that robbed the bank," he said.

Bay Police are still investigating the matter, searching for the suspect and running down leads, according to McNeil.

The investigation is headed by Detectives Tom Burleson and Terry Eley of the Bay St. Louis Police Department in conjunction with the FBI.

The Hancock County Chapter of the American Cancer Society will sponsor their annual Red Beans and Rice Cook-off on Monday, March 29, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

This is the third year for the special event which was very successful last year at the yacht club.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bay Middle School teachers support their principal

Dear Editor,

As faculty and staff of Bay Middle School, we were quite disturbed by Ms. Elizabeth Zimmerman's letter (March 18).

Although we understand and sympathize with her distress at Waveland Elementary's loss of its long-time and highly regarded principal, we can neither understand nor appreciate her attack on our school.

With our new principal, Mr. G. L. McRaney, at the helm, Bay Middle began a concerted school improvement effort at the start of the 1992-93 session.

In the short space of only seven months, we have seen tremendous improvement in student discipline, school environment and general morale.

Having successfully tackled the improvements essential for an effective school, we are now in the process of developing goals for further success in the upcoming school year. We expect to address areas of curriculum, instruction, and organization that can improve student performance.

We urge Ms. Zimmerman and other interested community members to visit us at any time. We are confident that you will find your taxes being put to use as they were intended — to provide a busy, orderly, quiet workplace where children are learning the most important 3 R's — respect, responsibility, and resourcefulness — along with their academic lessons. We are very proud of the job we are doing at Bay Middle.

Above all, we are very grateful for the outstanding leadership of our own highly regarded principal, Mr. McRaney.

The structure, support, and stable school environment he brings to Bay Middle provide our students with exactly the kind of firm boundaries needed by this age group.

Most beneficial, however, to all who come in contact with him, is his example as a caring man who still knows the difference between right and wrong and is not afraid to act in accord with his principles.

Sincerely yours,

Marie Bernard, Aleta Butler, Myra Stieffel, Carroll North, Linda K. Davis, Kathy Chapman, Margie Schmitt, Gwen Barrett, Bonnie Cuevas, Malin Chamberlain, Rose Lewis, Lou Monti, Diane Spraberry, Marla Boyer, Alan Wilson, Peggy Dutton, Dennis Barcelona, Joan Estapa, Carol Laffitte, Rachel Lincicum, Juanita Terrell, Joan Tomlinson, Pat Bien, Barbara Davis, Eunice Serio, Marilyn Senter, Kelly Roach, Carolyn Bullock, Sandra Compretta, Yolanda Bradley

Diamondhead BPA seeks help in clean-up efforts

Dear Editor:

The Diamondhead Business & Professional Association is an organization formed for the betterment and enhancement of the business climate of Diamondhead and the overall improved quality of life of our community.

The appearance of our community in general, and our business district in particular is critical. We realize and accept our responsibility to maintain, and in some cases to enhance the natural beauty that is Diamondhead and Hancock County.

We ask that all citizens, whether Diamondhead residents or visitors, join us in our efforts to making our community and all of Hancock County "Litter Free in '93."

We also wish to congratulate the Beautification Committee on the leadership role that they have taken in this most important matter.

Jon E. Ritten, President
Diamondhead Business & Professional Association

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi
Economic Council

"Never invest in any idea you can't illustrate with a Crayon." So says "Peter Principle No. 3," as developed by Peter Lynch, former head of the Fidelity Magellan Fund.

Lynch's "Peter Principle No. 3" illustrates the fact that making money through investing in the stock market doesn't need to be as complicated as it seems. By taking the "kid's-eye" approach to stock-picking," as Lynch says, anyone who takes the time to carefully study potential investments can compete with the Wall Street wizards.

And so it is practiced by school kids around the country who take part in the Stock Market Game.

Each spring and fall, tens of thousands of junior high and high school students in thousands of schools across the country divide into teams, each with an imaginary $100,000 to invest in the stock market.

Here in Mississippi, students are providing that they've got what it takes to keep up with the best in the business.

At the close of last fall's Mississippi Stock Market Game, which involved more than 2,000 students making up over 400 teams, Mississippi held 25 of the top 50 spots for its four-state region. East Jones High School in Laurel, which finished in second place overall, build a profit of $79,806 in just 10 weeks.

Perhaps we should see about putting a few of these students on the Federal Reserve Board. Couldn't hurt.

REPORT FROM THE SENATE

Bills passed by the Senate listed

This week a vast amount of time was spent in debate and discussion as the Senate met the deadline for final action on all appropriations and revenue bills originating from the House of Representatives.

The final two weeks of the 1993 session are approaching and Senate and House members are having conference meetings on the bills that passed both bodies. A bill is sent to conference when there are matters that are disagreed upon between the Houses.

Conference committees consist of three Senators appointed by the Lieutenant Governor and three Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House known as conferees.

It is the duty of the committee to submit a compromise and interpretation which might be acceptable to both groups. A conference report may be adopted, not adopted, or sent back to the conference committee to be reconsidered.

When a conference results in disagreement, conferees are dismissed and new conferees may be appointed. Ideally, conference produces a bill that is ready to be sent to the Governor for approval.

Some of the concerns of the Senate this year have been the tourism and economic development industries. Bills passed by the Senate this week include:

—House Bill 1502 allows the issuance of bonds for development, construction, or renovation of many historic sites around the state. The Department of Archives and History would oversee the work.

Proposed sites for work include: The Delta Blues Museum in Clarksdale, Medgar Evers' home in Jackson and the City Hall in Bay St. Louis.

House Bill 1602 provides for renovations at the Mississippi

Fairgrounds including the Coliseum, Trade Mart, and the Livestock barns. Coliseum improvements would include a new basketball court, a new roof, 3,600 more seats, more lights, and a new sound system.

—House Bill 1613 allows for general obligation bonds of nearly $35 million to repair and renovate projects desired by all universities and community colleges in the state.

The 15 community colleges would share $5 million dollars and the eight universities would divide the remaining money.

—House Bill 669 provides that retirement allowances, pensions, and annuities received under any public or governmental retirement system or any private retirement system or plan will be exempt from all state income taxation.

People retiring from state employment who are under 62 years of age will receive the $6,000 exemption under present law but not an additional $6,000 exemption.

Action from the floor of the Senate was taken on three veto messages returned by the Governor. Senate Bill 2721 and Senate Bill 2373 were returned to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate Bill 2303 which establishes the Meridian Grand Opera House as the Official Opera House in the state of Mississippi was returned because House Bill 179 serves the same purpose and has already been signed into law.

Conference committees will continue to meet and bills will be presented in final form as we approach the remainder of the session.

Submitted by Senator Bill Johnson, who can be reached at P. O. Box 1013, Jackson, MS 39215 or by calling 358-3770.

FROM THE MISSISSIPPI HOUSE

Compretta, Frierson win passage of gaming funds for Hancock

The House of Representatives has approved a bill which Representatives J. P. Compretta and Harry Frierson say is aimed at helping produce more revenues for Hancock County from gaming operations that may begin in coming months.

The measure was guided to overwhelming passage in the House by Compretta following adoption of an amendment offered by Frierson. The bill would allow the Board of Supervisors to impose a fee of 3.2 percent on gross revenues of gaming vessels docked in Hancock County waters outside the corporate boundaries of the municipalities.

Compretta said the legislation, requested by the Board of Supervisors, seeks to amend an existing law authorizing a boarding fee of $2.50 a person. He said the 3.2 percent fee would provide greater accuracy and accountability in dealing with the funds and hopefully bring in additional money for the county.

He said the fee was in line with gaming fees in Biloxi, Gulfport and D'Iberville. This fee will be in addition to funds received by the county from the state gaming tax.

"It's a good piece of legislation for our citizens," said Compretta, who represents House District 122 in Hancock County. Compretta is chairman of the Committee on Local and Private Legislation which handled the bill. The proposal would not affect dockside gaming activities in Bay St. Louis but would apply to a proposed casino which may be approved later this year at Bayou Caddy, he said.

An amendment, offered from the floor by Frierson, spells out certain purposes for which the proceeds of the tax will be used, including a reduction in ad valorem taxes in the county.

Under the Frierson amendment, 20 percent of the money would go to the sheriff's department for purchase of vehicles and equipment; 20 percent would be distributed to the county school district; 10 percent would be earmarked in equal amounts to fire protection districts in the county, and 20 percent would be used to proportionately lower ad valorem taxes. The remaining 30 percent would be used for any "lawful county general fund purpose."

"The amendment would give a break to the taxpayers, provide an increase to volunteer fire departments and hopefully lower rural fire insurance costs, and ensure additional funds for the sheriff's office," said Frierson, who represents District 93 including portions of Hancock, Harrison, Pearl River and Stone counties.

"Equally important, it would mean another source of funding for the schools and help compensate for the dramatic increase in enrollment because of an influx of people related to the gaming industry," Frierson added.

The bill still faces Senate action.

ly stages of a growth period unlike anything in our past, and many obstacles must be overcome for our city to prosper.

"Long range planning in government is essential. Strong leadership is critical.

"The opportunities that businesses and industries place before us can provide the means to improve our standard of living. The growth presents us with many challenges."

"Long range planning and foresight are fundamental in establishing guidelines to direct growth in a manner that nurtures our community for future generations to proudly inherit.

"Today we are fortunate, we have jobs and unemployment is down. However, I am concerned for our community and what the future brings.

"We are at a crossroads, and we must work together to insure that we preserve those values that make Bay St. Louis special to each of us.

"Excellence in education and programs that will reach all our children are high priorities. Senior citizens' needs must be in the forefront.

"Law enforcement and fire protection require enhancing to accommodate growth. Road improvements, drainage, utility systems and all city services should be maintained and improved as part of a long-range plan.

"I am committed to serve the people of Bay St. Louis with an open mind and a willingness to listen. I pledge to be a full-time mayor, available to the people and to react to the needs of our community," said Cowand.

NARFE chapter meets Thursday

The National Association of Retired Federal Employees (NARFE), Buccaneer Chapter 1729, will meet for an 11:30 a.m. fellowship Thursday at Waveland Resort Inn, followed by lunch at noon.

Boxx announces candidacy for councilman-at-large

Drew Boxx announces his candidacy for the office of councilman-at-large for the City of Bay St. Louis.

Boxx, 37, said he decided to run because he is a concerned citizen who feels the need to become involved in the future of Bay St. Louis.

"Bay St. Louis is indeed a 'Place Apart,' a town rich in its culture, history, traditions and hometown values," Boxx said. "It is very important to all citizens to preserve Bay St. Louis' assets, while growing and planning for our families' future."

"I want to work with the citizens of Bay St. Louis, to make certain that the opportunities are there for our children and grandchildren.

"Growth is good; change is good; jobs and economic development are good.

"City government and city services must keep pace with economic growth and the corresponding growth in the population.

Boxx added: "I have been listening to the citizens of Bay St.

Louis and learning what is important to them; economic development, quality of life, families, zoning integrity and city services."

"We need to make the citizens feel safe in their homes and on the streets, and the children feel safe in their neighborhoods. Our police department has done an excellent job in our community, making us feel secure and safe, and we can't allow that to change.

"We must maintain our small town atmosphere by working with the city council, the county board of supervisors, the police, the sheriff, our churches and our schools. I want my children to feel as safe and secure as I did as a boy spending my summers on the Bay St. Louis beaches.

"Our natural resources need to be preserved and we need to reduce pollution and litter. We need to work to get more people involved in recycling."

Boxx said, "It's not just me that needs to get involved. All citizens must also feel the calling... A commitment to our community."

"We must all work together, take an interest and make good things happen.

"As a husband and the father of three children, I moved to Bay St. Louis for its quiet and serene atmosphere, which is perfect for putting down roots and raising a family."

Prior to moving to Bay St. Louis, Boxx and his wife, the former Renee Herbert, lived in Louisiana. He graduated from De La Salle High School in New Orleans and attended Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge.

For 12 years, Boxx operated his own small business, Boxx Works Cabinets was located on Sycamore Street in Bay St. Louis for five years. After closing his business, he went back to school and obtained his electronics degree which he uses in his current position as a field service engineer for Seimens Medical Systems.

Boxx says his work hours are flexible, allowing him the necessary time to devote to the job of councilman-at-large for the city of Bay St. Louis.

us to utilize facilities in certain ways," said Scott. "We can utilize it to do work here, or we can sub-contract work."

MTI does not have any sub-contracted work at this point, but is looking at a few companies to bring here, according to Scott.

"We hold a contract to provide maintenance for the buildings and equipment and are in the process of trying to reutilize the facilities," said Scott.

Scott said MTI completed the layaway status at the end of 1992.

"The plant is owned by the government and we are here to oversee the contractor," said Major Larry Simonds, executive officer with the Army at the plant.

There are 99 employees on the contractor side and 10 in government staff, according to Simonds.

"What they are doing is maintaining the equipment and the building in the laid-away status," said Simonds.

"Back in 1989, our office had 41 employees and we have been continually downsizing to meet the requirements," said Simonds.

"We'll continue to do maintenance and are very actively pursuing other work we can do here both for defense and non-defense purposes. In addition, we also have a good likelihood of subcontracting some work," said Scott.

"It's a time for change for us," he said.

Catfish can become gourmet dish

Aren't we fortunate here on our Gulf Coast? It's easy to keep Lenten rules, with the profusion of seafood at our seafood markets and area supermarkets, isn't it? And, at such good prices, as well!

Catholics are asked to abstain from meat on Fridays until Easter signals the end of Lent; and Episcopalians follow similar practices. Many others follow Lenten rules as well.

It's "mudbugs" and "cats" for me on my Lenten menus! And, no penance at all! Call 'em crawfish or crayfish, or mudbugs or crawdads as you will, I love these tasty crustaceans. And, with the season almost at its peak, and prices lower, I shall enjoy crawfish just about every way!

And these delicious "cats" as well. Catfish are delicious; for my part, I find the meat sweeter than trout, and have for a long time substituted catfish for trout in such traditional dishes as "Truite Meuniere" or "Amandine" and so on. A catfish favorite of mine is:

GAIL THAMES' PECAN CATFISH

4 farm-raised catfish fillets
1 cup ground pecans
2 Tbsp. milk
3 Tbsp. Dijon mustard
In a small bowl, combine milk and mustard. Dip fillets into mixture, then into the ground pecans, shaking off the excess. Place on greased baking sheet, and "oven-fry" at 500 degrees for 10-12 minutes until the fish flakes easily. (4 servings)

For a variation on the theme:
1 1/2 lbs. catfish fillets
Flour for dredging

2 1/2 Tbsp. butter
1 cup pecans, halved or broken as you like
1 1/2 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce

Preheat oven to 200 degrees. Dredge the fillets in flour, shaking off the excess. Melt the butter in a large skillet over medium-high heat, and saute the fillets in the butter until golden on both sides, then transfer to a heated oven and keep warm while you make the sauce.

Add the pecans to the skillet and brown ever so lightly, for just a minute. Add the Worcestershire sauce to the pan, put the catfish on serving plates, and top each serving with sauce. Sometimes, I add a little butter and splashes of lemon juice when I'm cooking this dish.

At the meat counters, corned beef briskets are the "star" featured at special prices for St. Patrick's Day feasts. Cabbage and potatoes to go along with the corned beef are also featured. Boneless shoulder roasts and steaks are also on sale. And, if you don't want to cook a corned beef brisket, just head for the deli counter and buy whatever quantity suits you.

Trimmed whole hams are a good buy, as are pork quarter loins and assorted chops. And, let's not forget that perennial bargain, chicken leg quarters. Baking hens are also featured, along with whole fryers.

Spring vegetables are spilling out all over; with good buys in spinach and cucumbers and tomatoes, for instance. And, if you've given up sweets for Lent, don't fret. Those sweeter than sweet D'Anjou pears and mandarins and seedless white grapes will satisfy that sweet tooth very well.

Solar cooking at St. Clare

St. Clare sixth graders created individual solar cookers after studying a science unit on energy and energy alternatives. Each student in the Waveland school tried to design a system that would best utilize the sun's rays. Left, chef Kyle Kidd (with hat) stands over his solar cooker as students Bradley Lacoste, Dara DiGerolamo, Leslie Esher and Shay Coss wait to enjoy; at right, Emily Thompson fills out worksheets on fossil fuels as she waits for her food to cook.

Auction planned for River Extravaganza

Everything from storage buildings to trips to gift certificates will be auctioned to the highest bidder during the sixth annual Pearl River Community College Extravaganza.

The dinner portion of the event is set to start at 5 p.m. Sunday, March 28, in the White Coliseum. Fifteen area restaurants will provide their specialties for the 800 expected guests before the auction starts at 6:30 p.m.

Top auction items include two 12 x 12 storage and/or work buildings which are being built by the PRC Carpentry Department and wired by the Electric-ty Department.

"They will be a perfect addition for any home," said Mark Lott, carpentry instructor. "The buildings can be used in a 100 different ways."

Lott said some people have expressed an interest in the buildings for not only storage, but for a beauty shop, a small jewelry store, a children's playhouse and a home shop area.

The units are being built adjacent to the PRC shop area on campus and can be seen anytime. Lott said they will be easy to move and set up.

Other items on the auction list include vacations, weekend get-aways, paintings, office equipment, color television sets and numerous gift certificates.

"The support within our six-county district is great," said Donna Wilson, executive director of the PRC Development Foundation, organizers of the fund raising event.

Money raised from the Extravaganza will be used for student scholarships and teacher enhancement grants.

Tickets are $25 per person and may be purchased at the Alumni House on campus or by calling (601) 795-6801 ext. 383.

Fashion show benefit set

Proceeds from the style show will be dedicated to the Covenant House in New Orleans, that provides a safe haven for run-away teenagers. The Key Club members, wearing clothing from Anthony's Menswear, will assist the teen board models. Hairworks is assisting with the hair fashions for the evening. This is the fifth year of the cooperative fashion show. Easter Parade in Picayune sponsored by SPCA Apr. 3

Downtown Picayune will be the site of an old-fashioned community Easter Parade and Festival Saturday, April 3, sponsored by the Pearl River County chapter of the SPCA (Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals).

The parade, consisting of gaily trimmed floats, decorated vehicles and residents wearing their Easter bonnets and Sunday best, starts at 10:30 a.m. on Goodyear Blvd. At noon, activities begin at Jack Read Pavilion across from city hall.

There will be an egg hunt for children under 12, an Easter Bonnet Contest, a costume competition for pets and pictures with the Easter Bunny.

Live entertainment is planned for the remainder of the afternoon, with Elvis Presley impersonator Keith Hicks, and his backup group the "pseudo" Mordanares as the special attraction. Hicks, who won an Elvis Presley look-alike contest, sponsored by a radio station in Mobile, portrays the young Elvis in his style and moves. He will perform many of his hits.

Other performers include country, bluegrass and jazz bands, country music and gospel singers; square dancers and cloggers; church choirs and individual vocalists. Judah Troop, a religious dance group, will lend even more color and flair to the festivities with their exquisite costumes, banners and flags.

Dozens of arts and crafts booths, along with various food concessions, will be set up at Jack Read Park so that visitors can shop and eat while they enjoy the entertainment.

JOHN C. STENNIS SPACE CENTER

The Stennis Space Center offers a glimpse of the area's rich history and takes us forward to envision tantalizing ideas and vistas of a not too distant future as offered by science and technology.

Visitors can view exhibits representing the work of the Space Center with its resident agencies, live demonstrations, movies and a panoramic view from the 90-foot Space Tower.

Every 45 minutes guided bus tours will take visitors to the Space Shuttle Test Complex. Cafeteria facilities are available and cameras are allowed. Hostesses: Diamondhead Garden Club members.

HANCOCK COUNTY WELCOME CENTER

Monday, March 22, 1 a.m. to 4 p.m.

HOME OF BARRY AND BETSY PINCUS

1362 North Beach Blvd., Bay St. Louis
10 a.m. to noon

This home is a melange of their life experiences. They are the proprietors of Bay Crafts in Old Town, Bay St. Louis, and many of the craftspeople in their private collection exhibit at their shop.

Upon entering their home, you immediately notice their contemporary art collection as Andy Warhol's Uncle Sam greets you by the door.

The living room contains an eclectic collection of contemporary pueblo pottery, art glass and original graphics by Chagall, Miro, Ernst, Calder and Dali, among others. Many pieces of furniture are handcrafted by Louisiana and New Mexico craftspeople.

On the second level, the Pincuses have their extensive collection of hunting decoys, along with hunting memorabilia which they have acquired over 20 years of collecting.

The den houses their collection of hand carved shore birds; and don't miss the guest bedroom reflecting their love of Mardi Gras. Finally, the master bedroom is decorated with contemporary graphics by such masters as Picasso and Giacometti and sculpture by local artist, George Rowan.

DIAMONDHEAD COMMUNITY CHURCH

5301 Diamondhead Circle
The Diamondhead Community Church (Presbyterian Church (USA)) was designed by Fred Wagner. The new building with a total seating capacity of 290 was first used for worship in January 1992. The seating was arranged so that the congregation could encircle the pulpit in a 180 degree arc. The design provides a feeling of close perspective. You are never more than a few pews from the minister.

The building is surrounded on three sides by glass and decorated in nuances of green and blue. The natural wood ceiling climbs toward a windowed cupola that splashes the center of the room in natural light. No matter where you sit, the unobstructed view makes you feel as though you have found a place among the oaks to be at peace and listen.

DIAMONDHEAD COUNTRY CLUB

A special dutch treat luncheon buffet will be served at the country club from 11 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Reservations are not required.

Of special interest are raised beds strategically placed and a miniature cascading waterfall and pond, all blending into a garden that is wonderful to visit.

This garden will be featured in a book by Neal Oedenwald, due for release this fall.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON — A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Although other studies and scientists may not agree, researchers in Europe found that the ingredient, a natural plant colloid, actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories.

While the project of National Dietary Research, aptly named Food Source One, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the formula which has since been improved with other natural colloids has been a windfall for some overweight people. A Metairie, Louisiana nurse lost 71 pounds. She stated "I never had to sacrifice the foods I dearly crave!" "Food Source One is very easy and anyone could do it," says a Niagara Falls, New York woman who lost 26 pounds and 15 inches. "The results are great," she added.

Food Source One tablets are part of National Dietary Research's comprehensive plan to bring a rapid end to obesity in this country. A variety of nutritionally sound diet plans, specially prepared by NDR, accompany each bottle and provide a natural, drug free alternative for confronting the problem of obesity.

Recreation arts and leisure available here

Fun and relaxation are a major way of life in the Bay-Waveland area. The temperate climate encourages a full calendar of events and festivities for everyone, year-round.

The entire area is rich in history. Bay St. Louis is the oldest established community on the Gulf Coast. Waveland has been a long established summer retreat and resort for visitors from New Orleans and Natchez. Walking and driving tours of the many historic districts are yours for the taking.

Those interested in outdoor/sports activities can choose from 16 beautiful golf courses within 50 miles or several public tennis courts, exercise trails and private health clubs that offer "pet visit" options. There are approximately eight miles of sand beaches, numerous public fishing piers, and the sea wall provides fishing and crabbing fun for the entire family.

The county boasts two parks. McLeod Water Park, one of the Pearl River Boatway Parks, has trailer sites with water and electricity, primitive camping, lighted ball field, group pavilion, picnicking, nature trail, boat launching, bathhouse and fishing piers.

Buccaneer State Park features a seasonal wave pool, wading pool and water slide, as well as a game room, tennis and basketball courts, three play areas, nature trails, outdoor amphitheater and great Gulf fishing, with tent camping and RV facilities available.

The John C. Stennis Space Center offers guided tours and a space museum. The Visitors Center is open seven days a week, except Christmas Day, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., with no admission fee. If you're lucky, you may be visiting on the day of a test firing of NASA's shuttle rocket engines!

The Hancock County Public Library System has three branches with some of the most advanced resources and equipment available anywhere.

The towns of Hancock County are becoming famous along the Gulf Coast as a haven for shoppers—everything from fine art, antiques and books to unique gifts, designer clothing and local crafts.

Restaurants in the area vary from seafood fresh off the boat in a casual atmosphere, to more elegant Creole and Cajun cuisine and some of the best steaks on the Coast, served in a more intimate setting.

Nightlife activities abound, from a cinema and a community theater to night spots featuring live entertainment. Or maybe try your luck in a local dockside casino. An annual calendar of festivals and fairs, including Mardi Gras, provides endless fun and excitement for all.

Cajun dance lessons to be offered in Bay

Rand and Cynthia Speyrer are offering Cajun dance lessons for beginners starting Monday, April 5 at the VCCJ Gymnasium on Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis.

The class will meet every Monday from 7-8:30 p.m. for four weeks at 810 Spanish Trail behind the police station and includes the traditional Cajun waltz, two-step and the Cajun jitterbug.

Rand Speyrer is the producer of the world's first Cajun dance video, Allons Danser!, an instructional tape that was honored by the American Film Institute and Billboard Magazine in Hollywood.

The Speyrers have taught over 5,000 people Cajun dance lessons. They offer classes at seven locations throughout the greater New Orleans area.

For more information or to register, call Pat or Cathy Kauchick at 467-5242 or Rand Speyrer at 504-899-0615.

Buccaneer Park offers water fun

Buccaneer State Park in Waveland is best known for its water park complex, centered with its wave pool.

The thrill of ocean waves in a clean, fresh water pool forms the ideal setting for swimming, rafting or playing in the whitecaps.

High speed fans create the wave action in 10 minute cycles, allowing swimmers to enjoy calm waters and rolling waves in the same swimming area.

A four-foot wading pool is offered for younger or less adventurous swimmers.

A two-plume water slide is the newest attraction. All water activities open May 1, according to a park spokesman.

Pilgrimage

such original features as heart of pine flooring, cypress doors and back to back fireplaces. It has been furnished in keeping with the mid-Victorian era.

A large area added to the north end of the house in 1978 includes a palladian-wind solarium and writer's study. The side courtyard contains architectural artifacts dating to 1849 from the now-demolished St. Charles Hotel in New Orleans. Miss Adele Bielenberg, granddaughter of R. W. Bielenberg will be one of the hostesses.

HOME OF MRS. AND MRS. JAMES B. NORRIS

4574 Robin Lane
11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Located in the Leewood Subdivision this home was built in 1993. The home is brick and beautifully landscaped. It is furnished with family antiques and portraits of two Mississippi pre-Civil War Governors. Gov. Mayfield Tucker, 1842, was the first governor to live in the mansion in Jackson.

Governor William McWillie in 1856, is the other portrait. An antique Sheraton drop leaf table was made into a formal table for 12. Its width is oversized.

Portraits of four of the owner's grandchildren, painted by New Orleans artist Lisete Moore Meyer, are on the wall. A Chinese chop late sits on the Hepplewhite sideboard.

The library features wildlife prints by Stone. In the guest bedroom are a pair of beds given to Mrs. Norris by New Orleans actress Margaret Williams.

In the master bedroom there is a lovely English Mans Chest and a desk that belonged to Mrs. Norris' great-grandfather. It was originally a wash stand. Many of the mirrors throughout the house are in antique picture frames.

HOME OF DR. AND MRS. WILLIAM CLEMENT

919 East Scenic Drive
1 to 4 p.m.

The coastal colonial style home was completed in 1986. It stands on part of the property on which stood the Old Grey Castle Hotel, which was dismantled after Hurricane Camille.

The yard has some older oaks, camellias and crape myrtles which were originally on the property. The house is furnished with antiques and family pieces, including a Chippendale loveseat, a burl-yew chest, under an English looking glass.

A Chippendale cabinet holds a collection of shore birds carved and colored by Dr. Clement.

A George I secretary, a Scottish tall clock and an Irish Sutherland drop leaf table complete the living room. There is an oak table and mantle clock from Mrs. Clement's grandparents' home. The octagon shaped family room is paneled in re-run pine taken from an old warehouse in Louisiana.

HOME OF DR. AND MRS. HARRY DANIELSON

849 East Scenic Drive
1-4 p.m.

The site of this historic house dates back to 1818. The original building was constructed in 1849. The last addition was added in the 1930s.

When the Danielsons bought the house it had fallen into ruin. There was water damage and decay from infestation. From the deterioration has risen "Belle B Anne," one of the most spectacular homes on the Gulf Coast.

Virtually all of the original pine and cypress has been scraped by hand. All the original heart pine floors have been restored. All the shutters and windows work like they did in 1849.

The restored house with 10,000 square feet of space, contains six bedrooms and 54 baths. The stately 128 foot front porch, with its authentic iron railings, is supported by 16 original columns.

A marble bathtub reported to have belonged to Napoleon is so weighty a special foundation was established to support the tub. The millwork is spectacular. The house is filled with exquisite antique furniture.

Mrs. Danielson collects Gone With the Wind memorabilia and has a very interesting collection. The wallpapers and antique rugs are similar to those used in the house originally.

HOME OF MRS. CLAUDE SCHNEIDER SR.

1034 West Beach, 3-4 p.m.

This house was built circa 1925 by local builder Adolph DeMetz. It is a rambling ranch style stucco house with an arched veranda across the front.

Situated on a high lot, it has panoramic view of the Mississippi Sound. The house is cool and inviting. Mrs. Schneider has allowed wild flowers to share her formal flower beds, which invites birds and butterflies to her yard.

The Pass Christian Garden Club will serve tea in the dining room. Chairman of the tea is Mrs. K. Zach Anthony.

Brochures and maps are available at the Hancock Civic Center, Chamber of Commerce and the Pass Christian Library.

Crunchy's Choice comes to Hancock

Critters come in all sizes and shapes, and at the Hancock County Elementary Schools, there is a new one, and he's Crunchy.

Crunchy Critter has arrived as part of the Crunchy's Choice nutrition education program in the cafeteria.

Crunchy's Choice is designed to encourage students to eat nutritious foods, reduce fat, sugar, and salt, and increase fiber.

include new entrees such as a stromboli sandwich and new versions of old favorites such as chili con carne with beans. Recipes for Crunchy's Choice foods have been computer analyzed for their nutrient content to ensure that they meet nutrition criteria.

The program will last a month, but the school will continue to use the new recipes along with other nutritious foods. The promotion has ended. During the program, children in kindergarten and first and second grades will participate in special nutrition activities featuring Crunchy Critter in their classrooms. Parents will receive a nutrition newsletter each week during the program.
